PRESS STATEMENT

CAPTAIN TRAORE HAS MADE AFRICA PROUD

Burkina Faso's President, Captain Ibrahim Traoré, has refused an offer from Saudi Arabia to build 200 mosques in the country. Instead, he asked Saudi Arabia to invest in projects that would help his people, such as schools, hospitals, and businesses that create jobs.

The Atheists In Kenya Society applauds this courageous decision made by an African leader.

President William Ruto ought to redirect his efforts from constructing churches to prioritizing initiatives that address poverty alleviation and unemployment reduction for the Kenyan population.

Sincerely,

Harrison Mumia
President, Atheists In Kenya Society
